

Discover how unlikely innovators hold the key to radical change.

The Positive Deviance Approach

Time to stop reinventing the wheel: learn to harness and apply the power of the success already out there.

March 11th and 12th, 2015, 1 day in June + 1 webinar and 2 individual coaching sessions
Leadership training session in Guelph, Ontario, Canada

What?

Looking for a new approach to solving complex societal or organizational problems? Are you finding traditional ideas about authority and power insufficient for addressing your challenges? Come and learn how the Positive Deviance approach creates space for people to discover the answers for themselves - answers already out there to be tapped into. Welcome to an inspiring workshop from the people that brought Open Space Technology training to Guelph.

The purpose of this training is

- to enable participants to lead and facilitate complex problem solving using the PD methodology and tool box,
- to start working on solving the problems they are grappling with, and
- to grow in their personal ability to work with adaptive challenges.

For Whom?

This workshop is for formal and informal community leaders, strategic planners, project managers, business and organization leaders, entrepreneurs and neighbourhood organizations, public engagement specialists, consultants - anyone who is grappling with complex problems.

Enrollment is limited to 25 participants.

Where? TBD

By Whom? Lars Thuesen, WIN, Denmark: www.win-org.eu
Anna-Eva Lohe, Next Stop You, Sweden: www.nextstopyou.com

Cost: $1850; sliding scale available - contact us.

Sign up: Jeremy.Shute@sharedvaluesolutions.com

Phone: 226 706-8888 x105

The next inspiring installment in our leadership series that has included Open Space Technology and Adaptive Leadership

